Reviewer's opinion/ Comments

- The article provides a very in-depth debate on current international political constitutions with a good basis in both Russian and Western philosophical debate, with good argumentation and text construction, there are some issues that need to be identified and better worked on in the text, especially in relation to the conceptualization of some terms used, but in general the text is very good. However, the text does not talk about education outside the title, so I suggest that it be sent to another journal in the field of political science or political philosophy or international relations, but it is not within the scope of an education journal.
